

Truman Asks Draft And UMT; Says Situation Is "Critical"

Washington, March 17 (AP) — President Truman asked Congress today for power to draft men to build armed strength against the Russian aggression of Soviet Communism.

He also asked a joint Senate-House session for:

1. Universal military training.
2. Quick enactment of the $5,300,000,000 European aid program.

Mr. Truman said the draft should be temporary — lasting only until universal military training is giving the nation the trained men it needs.

In a personally delivered address, the president told the legislators that Russia is out to destroy the independence of Europe's remaining free nations. He said the time has come when America must make its

Early Reaction

Washington, March 17 (AP) — Reaction to President Truman's appeal for universal military training and revival of the draft today cut sharply across party lines in Congress.

There was some Republican criticism of the President's request on the grounds that he was "creating a crisis."

He got backing, as well as opposition, for his UMT proposal. But most lawmakers said they want more time to study the draft proposal.

position unmistakably clear — in military as well as economic terms.

Uses Blunt Language

Drafting men for the armed services and universal training is part of the price of peace, he declared, saying:

"We must be prepared to pay the price of peace or assuredly we shall pay the price of war."

Bluntly Mr. Truman spoke these words of Soviet Russia — ally of the war which crushed Germany and Japan.

"One nation has not only refused to cooperate in the establishment of a just and honorable peace, but even worse — has actively sought to prevent it."

"One nation has persistently obstructed the work of the United Nations by constant abuse of the veto. That nation has vetoed 21 proposals for action."

Blames Russians

"But that is not all. Since the close of hostilities, the Soviet Union and its agents have destroyed the independence and democratic character of a whole series of nations in eastern and central Europe."

"It is this ruthless course of action, and the clear design to extend it to the remaining free nations of Europe that have brought about the critical situation in Europe today."

But Mr. Truman also said: "The door has never been closed, nor will it ever be closed, to the Soviet Union or any other nation which will genuinely cooperate in preserving the peace."

Only To Keep Peace

Repeatedly, Mr. Truman emphasized the importance of maintaining military strength as a means of preventing war. We have found that a sound military system is necessary in time of peace if we are to remain at peace.

"Aggressors in the past, relying on our apparent lack of military force, have unwisely precipitated war. Although they have been led to destruction by their misconception of our strength, we have paid a terrible price for our unpreparedness."

Reveals European Pact

Mr. Truman called Congress' attention to the just-completed five-nation-western European pact for common defense against attack. He said of it: "This development deserves our full support. I am confident that the United States will, by appropriate means, extend to the free nations the support which the situation requires."

"I am sure that the determination of the free countries of Europe to protect themselves will be matched

Little Pet Dog Shot To Death

Patty Weaver, five and one-half year old daughter of Colonel and Mrs. William G. Weaver, Baltimore street, today is mourning the loss of her pet dog, "Sandy," 18-months old pedigree cocker spaniel.

"Sandy" started out Monday morning to do a little frolicking and rambling away from home. He wandered his way along Steinwehr avenue as has been his custom and soon was out of sight of his home.

When the dog was missed Mrs. Weaver and her daughter started to call him. Presently Chief of Police Robert Harpster telephoned Mrs. Weaver and told her that "Sandy" had been shot to death for chasing geese on the Will Jones property, Steinwehr avenue. Harpster did not shoot the dog. It is not known definitely who did the shooting.

Later in the day "Sandy" was buried.

WARD OF COURT IN NEW TANGLE

A 17-year-old Fairfield area youth, a ward of the juvenile court, Saturday night is alleged to have driven his vehicle into a Maryland preacher's car twice and then became involved in a fight in a Harrisburg road resident's home.

The youth is said to have rammed his machine into the minister's vehicle in Gettysburg shortly before 10 o'clock. He is said then to have followed the pastor's car out the Harrisburg road and to have rammed the machine again. The pastor stopped and went into a private home to call police.

The youth followed and then is said to have told the residents "You won't call anybody," and to have struck the houseowner who was attempting to subdue the youth while the householder's wife phoned police.

After police arrived the youth was asked to show his owner's and driver's cards. He found the driver's license and failing to find his owner's card became angry and threw the pocketbook to the floor. Then he refused to pick up the wallet.

State police said the youth is a ward of the court. They did not conduct an investigation into the alleged crashes, merely removing the youth to his home. When he appears before court, testimony will be given then, it was understood, on the occurrence.

Here And There News Collected At Random

There should be considerable interest here in the action taken by the U. S. Senate committee on Post Office and Civil Service in recommending passage of Senate Joint Resolution 158 calling for the issuance of a stamp to commemorate the 85th anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

Senator Myers, of Pennsylvania, introduced the measure at the instance of a Gettysburg committee. The postmaster general frowned upon the measure but the committee overruled his objections and determined that the wishes of the citizens to commemorate this occasion far outweighed any opposition.

The measure was passed by the Senate Tuesday and was sent to the House for action.

Letters in support of the measure addressed to Congressman Chester H. Gross may stimulate further interest in the bill.

Democracy Must Work

"If we can develop economic democracy we can save political democracy," Howard Latashaw of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau Federation, told the group. But only hard work and assumption by all of personal responsibility to do a good job can provide economic democracy," he pointed out.

"There seem to be so many who believe they can get more by doing less. And this is very serious, for democracy cannot live in that type of atmosphere. And we cannot have economic democracy when many shirk their responsibilities, and seek to gain a livelihood without working."

"The cooperatives help to develop this sense of responsibility in individuals because without all working together, without all being responsible, the cooperative cannot work."

HONOR SOCIETY AWARDS GIVEN AT HIGH SCHOOL

No one of the four principles of the National Honor society, leadership, scholarship, character and service can stand alone, Attorney Donald M. Swope declared this morning at the regular assembly held at Gettysburg high school.

At the assembly 14 members of the senior class were inducted into the Gettysburg chapter of the National Honor society by Fred Rodgers, a member of the organization from last year's class.

"Leadership without character and service is a terrible catastrophe," Attorney Swope pointed out, "We have had many such in the world, among the more notable being the Nazi leadership in Germany."

Scholarship without leadership, character and service can also bring great difficulties to the world and leadership without scholarship can bring much suffering.

All Qualities Needed

"Thus all four qualities are needed, and needed badly. We must strive to develop in ourselves all four of the principles."

Among those who were inducted into the Honor Society and presented with certificates by Principal Guile W. Lefever were Mary Kay Baughman, Russell Campbell, Arthur Clapsaddle, Ethel Coshun, Ruth Jeanne Diehl, Patricia Gleim, Betty Jo Hill, Galen Keeney, Marguerite Mickle, Alice Plank, Freda Rohrbach, Richard Waybright, David Weaver and Ann Wetzel.

David Niebler, president of the junior class, conducted devotions. Arthur Clapsaddle called the meeting to order and Mary Kay Baughman called the roll. The vocal selections were presented by Arlene Lewis, a sophomore, and Reginald Dunkin, a senior.

The local honor society group has elected as officers: Arthur Clapsaddle, president, and Mary Kay Baughman, secretary-treasurer.

150 BOYS HERE SEEK SCOUTING

A survey of cub and scout age boys in the Gettysburg public schools has disclosed that more than 150 boys from eight to 15 years of age are eager to join cub packs or scout troops if the opportunity is offered.

David M. Dickson, field executive for the Black Walnut district, reported today the results of the survey conducted under the supervision of Dr. L. C. Keefe, superintendent of the public schools here.

A similar survey is to be made in the Gettysburg parochial school Friday and schools throughout the county are surveying wishes of boys of scout age for the scout organization.

In the check-up in the local schools, 214 boys turned in cards. Only 27 of them were not interested in becoming cubs or scouts. Forty-one others already belong to scout troops.

Mr. Dickson said arrangements will be made soon for meetings of parents of the interested boys to plan training sessions for den mothers and leaders for new cub packs.

Borough Offered Water Company For $450,000; Call Is "Camouflaged"

The purchase of the Gettysburg Water company by the borough of Gettysburg for $450,000 was proposed to borough council Tuesday night at a special meeting in the council chambers in the engine house, called, according to notices sent to councilmen, for the purpose of passing an ordinance relating to bus stops.

To some members of the council and others, who went to the meeting expecting to hear the bus stop question discussed, the water company proposal came as a complete surprise. Others, however, admitted that they had been "tipped off" as to the real purpose of the meeting.

John H. Ware, Jr., Oxford, Pa. and Miami, Fla., president and chairman of the board of the Northeastern Water company, Camden, N. J., owners of the Gettysburg company, outlined the terms of the proposed agreement, and Councilman H. M. Oyer, president of the borough council, announced that he would appoint a committee to consider the setting up of a borough water authority.

Says Notices Were Camouflaged

Notices calling the special meeting read: "Harry M. Oyer, president of the borough council of the borough of Gettysburg has called a special meeting of council to be held at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, March 16, 1948, at the council chamber for the purpose of considering various proposals for voting for or against the adoption of an ordinance relating to bus stops and for transacting any further business which may be brought before said meeting."

In calling the meeting to order, President Oyer said the notices "were not worded just as I wanted them." He said that Councilman Wilbur J. Stallsmith, chairman of the safety committee, was "not ready to make any recommendation on the bus stops" and that the real purpose "was to consider the purchase of the Gettysburg Water company."

Borough Solicitor Eugene V. Bullett admitted that the notices of the meeting had been "camouflaged."

40-Year Bond Issue

Mr. Ware proposed that the borough set up a water authority to take over the common stock of the Gettysburg Water company, through the issuance of bonds maturing yearly for 40 years. The present owners would operate the company for the borough during the life of the bonds.

Mr. Ware said the company would guarantee a return to the borough of between 7% and 8 per cent.

"We have been making similar contracts with guarantees ranging from six to 11 per cent," he said, "but under present conditions I think 7% or 8 per cent would probably be a fair return. We would manage the company for you, and would expect to be entitled to earn an amount equal to the amount guaranteed you."

The proposal is practically the same as was made to the borough by the water company about five years ago, Mr. Ware said.

Predicts Huge Earnings

"After the bonds have been retired, this water works will earn the borough between $35,000 and $40,000 a year," Mr. Ware said. "If you had accepted the offer five years ago, you would have made $200,000," he added.

A borough authority could finance the purchase of the water company with tax-free municipal bonds, according to Mr. Ware.

"You can get money easier than we can," he pointed out. "I think you should be able to finance these bonds for 2 1/2 to 3 per cent. Williamsport financed a bond issue for 1 1/2 per cent, but right now the municipal bond market is higher."

Mr. Ware stressed the point several times that whereas his company must pay taxes, the proposed municipal authority water bonds would be tax free.

Need Improvements

Mr. Ware said that if the borough decided to purchase the water company, two major improvements would be necessary, the enlargement of the reservoir and construction of a new pipe line from the pumping station to the reservoir.

"We would want to put three more rings on the standpipe," he said. "This would give greater pressure. There should also be an additional line, either an eight or a twelve-inch line, to reinforce the present line from the pumping station. These improvements would take care of the growth of the community for the next 100 years."

According to Mr. Ware's figures, a bond issue totaling approximately $325,000 would be necessary to take care of the purchase price, engineering and attorney fees and improvements. He estimated that it would cost between $10,000 and $12,000 to raise the reservoir, and approximately $80,000 for the new pipe line.

Costs Too High Now

"I would recommend that you finance the new pipe line now, but that you do not build it at the present time, when costs are out of sight. The cost of pipe is the highest in the history of the country."

Mr. Ware said a new and larger pipe line would increase the capacity of the water works five times over the present volume, and would reduce the electric bill for pumping by 35 to 40 per cent.

He recommended that the borough create a water board or water authority of five men. The authority was recommended because, he said, "if you buy as a borough, the debenture is against every piece of property" (Please Turn to Page Two)

FINGERPRINTS MAY IDENTIFY WOMAN'S ARM

York, Pa., March 17 (AP)—State police were hopeful today that fingerprints taken of the hand of a woman's forearm found near here would lead to her identity.

Captain Harry McElroy, director of the state police Bureau of Criminal Identification, said at Harrisburg that laboratory technicians were able to make "quite good" fingerprints from the hand.

He added that intensive efforts are now underway to match the prints, but pointed out this may prove futile if the woman has never been fingerprinted.

The woman's forearm was found by a dog in a wooded section about 15 miles south of here on Saturday. So far, efforts to find other portions of the woman's body have failed.

To Question Pair

The search yesterday spread over the state border into nearby Maryland as police traced a green car with New Jersey license plates reported seen in the area where the arm was found.

State Police Detective Carl Hartman went to Hagerstown, Md., after Deputy Sheriff L. R. Isanogle said a green sedan bearing New Jersey license plates was left in a garage there by two young men who "seemed in a big hurry."

After completing an inspection of the car last night, Hartman announced that the registration was in order, but said he wanted to question the two men as to why they had abandoned the vehicle. The men were not available at Hagerstown for questioning, Hartman said.

by an equal determination on our part to help them to do so."

The European pact Mr. Truman mentioned was announced officially less than an hour before he spoke. In it, Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg pledged each their military aid if one should be attacked.

The 50-year treaty sets up a "Consultative Council" to meet immediately "to consult with regard to any situation which might constitute a threat to peace."

The treaty leaves the way open for other nations to join. It says the five countries "may, by agreement, invite any other state" to agree to its terms.

Mr. Truman told Congress there are times when it is "far wiser to act than to hesitate—even though action always involves risk."

He said his recommendations at this time for action represent "the most urgent steps towards securing the peace and preventing the war."

The President stressed that the United States will continue to support the United Nations and will try every possible method of reaching international accord.

EGG PRODUCERS

food, and left to others the processing and marketing."

Robert Walker, sales manager for the State Farm Bureau egg division through which the local cooperative now markets its eggs, told the group that "because since the war a number of egg cooperatives have been established through the state we now have the advantage of having large quantities of eggs, which means we can sell to larger purchasers at better prices. Large chain stores, for example, do not want to bother with purchasing eggs from large numbers of individual farmers or groups. It is cheaper for them to buy eggs from one or two sources. By having a large number of county egg cooperatives knit together we can assure a constant flow of eggs to our sources. If one county is down on egg production this week, eggs can be switched from another county to fill the orders. If eggs are sought in a particular section, eggs from the nearest county can be sent there.

"But to do our job properly we must have quality eggs. If you let the quality of the eggs slip then you lose your present market and have to take a lower market which is not so particular about its eggs. And it is difficult to climb back into the better market where you get the better price. If we can get the quality up then we can go after the top price markets, the big hotels and the like that are willing to pay high prices for assured top quality eggs."

Sales Over Half Million

Paul Smith, manager of the local cooperative warned the group that "beginning Monday we are going to penalize the person who turns in dirty eggs, or ungraded eggs. Up to now we have cleaned eggs and graded them and all got the same price. But it is unfair to continue to pay the same price to the man who brings in dirty eggs and to the man who brings in graded, clean eggs. If we are to continue to clean eggs, then we have to continue paying men to do it, and it is unfair to charge the man who cleans his own eggs for part of the wages for the man hired to clean the eggs of others.

"The price you see in The Gettysburg Times is now the price we pay when we pick up the eggs on your farm. But we must ask your cooperation in handling the eggs. They must be stored in a cool moist place. In a dry room they will lose so much moisture they cease to be fancy eggs in a very short time. Pack eggs points down, or they will not be fancy eggs by the time they reach the market and collect your eggs three times a day if possible. An egg may be fancy in the morning, but after five or six hens have sat on it throughout the day it has lost top quality."

The report of Treasurer Edgar Weaner showed egg sales totalling $544,084.99 during the year 1947 of which $523,705.90 was paid to the farmers for the eggs. Expenses of operation of the cooperative during the year totalling $16,351.15 leaving a net profit for the period of $484.24. Assets were listed at $26,606.10 and liabilities at $9,623.50 and a surplus of $13,256.04 was recorded.

President Allen Redding presided at the meeting. The directors will meet at the egg cooperative office on North Washington street Monday evening to reorganize for the coming year.

EIGHT QUINTS GAIN DISTRICT PIAA HONORS

Harrisburg, March 17 (AP)—Eleven district titleholders, eight newly-crowned last night, were ready to play to swing into inter-district play or the Class A state basketball championship.

The field was narrowed down to the 11 teams after a series of spirited skirmishes were held last night in tight districts across the state.

Inter-district play begins Friday in the east, pitting Norristown and Bethlehem in a clash at the Penn Palstra, and Plymouth and Williamsport at Kingston Armory.

Action will get underway in the west Friday, with Conemaugh meeting Bradford, and Bradford facing Warren.

Final April 3
The second round is booked for Tuesday, March 23, with the eastern and western finals both set for Tuesday, March 30. The state finals will be at the Penn Palstra, Saturday, April 3.

Results of last night's district playoffs:

District One—Norristown 48, Radnor 44; District Two, Plymouth, 38, Old Forge 26; District Three, York 40, Chambersburg 41; four, Williamsport 34, Conyngham 33; five, Bedford 41, Berlin 33; six, Conemaugh 53, Altoona 33; nine, Bradford, 34, Punksutawney 27; ten, Warren, 48, Erie Academy 38.

Title races in the remaining three districts already have been decided with Ford City the winner in District Seven, Westinghouse in District Eight, and Bethlehem in District 11.

Training Camp Briefs

Hollywood, Calif., March 17 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates looked impressive in fielding yesterday, not counting a pair of errors.

They pulled off three double plays, and would have had two more but for bobbles by Bob Chesnes and Monte Baggall. But the home run jinx beat the Bucs, as the New York Giants got four of five runs through two homers, in their 5-2 victory.

Sarasota, Fla., March 17 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies figure they have a real find in young Ritchie Ashburn, a rookie outfielder.

Ashburn, who hit 362 for Utica last year, subbed for Del Ennis against the Boston Red Sox yesterday, and gave a good account of himself. He hit two singles, drove in one run and scored once himself. He also made a number of fine catches.

The rookie star is expected to be sent to Toronto this year for more seasoning.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Manager Connie Mack plans to carry three catchers on his Philadelphia athletics' roster this year.

Buddy Rosar and Mike Guerra are fixtures for two of the mask jobs. The third likely will be 34-year-old Herman Franks, former manager of St. Paul, in the American associa-

Pro Boxing Given Illinois Suspension

Chicago, March 17 (AP)—Repercussions of the ring death in Chicago last month of Sam Baroudi were capped today by suspension of professional boxing in Illinois for 23 days.

The shutdown was asked by Gov. Dwight H. Green yesterday and Commission Chairman Sheldon Clark said the request was accepted in "complete accord." The commission will meet tomorrow to act formally on the matter.

The move climaxes criticism of pro boxing stemming from the death on February 21 of Baroudi, 20-year-old Akron, O., boxer, after his 10th round knockout by Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati.

NAME HICKMAN NEW YALE COACH

New Haven, Conn., March 17 (AP)—Herman Hickman, "The Little Giant," from Tennessee, is Yale's new head football coach.

Ending a long search for a successor to Howie Odell, Robert J. H. Kipnuth, Eli director of athletics, announced Hickman's appointment late yesterday. Odell resigned in January to become head coach at the University of Washington.

The massive Hickman, who gained his nickname because of his avoirdupois, thus departs from the U. S. Military academy at West Point to undertake his first assignment as a head coach. He has been line coach at West Point, under Col. Earl Blaik, since 1943. He helped develop Army's strong forward walls that cleared many a path for backfield stars Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard to romp to fame.

Prior to going to West Point, Hickman served as line coach at Wake Forest and at North Carolina state. In 1943 he was chief aide and head line coach to Col. Bob Neyland, who directed the U. S. Army All-Star team which trained on the Yale campus for three wartime benefit games.

Large Crowd Sees Start of Program

While several hundred persons looked on, the first part of the afternoon's program for the formal reception and installation of the new American La France fire engine by the Gettysburg Fire company was staged in Center Square at 2 o'clock.

Visiting firemen, county visitors and residents of Gettysburg sought vantage points around Center Square during the competitive test between the Boyd pumper and the La France triple combination engine. The test lasted nearly half an hour.

D. C. Stallsmith and Percy Miller were in charge of the La France crew, while Walter Sterner and H. E. Smiley were in command of the Boyd.

Pastor Installed: With large crowds attending both services, the Rev. Earl J. Bowman was formally installed pastor of St. James Lutheran church, Sunday, Rev. Dr. J. A. Clutz admonished the congregation in its duties toward the new minister. Rev. Dr. A. R. Wentz, who acted as supply pastor of the charge for several months, at the evening service outlined the work ahead for the pastor and the method of approaching it. Dr. Clutz conducted the installation services in the evening.

Fire and Water Cause Big Loss: Fire, which caught from a spark of a blow torch, gave firemen a battle for almost half an hour Thursday morning and caused property damage estimated by firemen from between $1,500 and $2,000 to the property of Harris Brothers and the adjoining building of the H. L. Diehl estate on Baltimore street.

Today's Talk

Leisure to Admire and Enjoy

A third of our lives is spent in bed, for rest. The remainder of our time upon this earth is spent in work but each of us should reserve a liberal portion of this time merely for leisure to admire and enjoy the wonderful things upon this earth as our inheritance.

No matter how many times I look upon a scene that attracts my eye, never do I tire of another look, or meditation. The little island home of mine in Nova Scotia, where I have spent 18 summers, is ever new to me. I have not exhausted one thousandth part of its beauty and appeal. Every summer I discover many new things of interest there. The friendliness of a flower, shrub, or tree remains. And I am welcomed by my scampers red squirrels who almost know me by name! Every meeting of a friend is a new experience. There is always something new to learn about each, and something new to be loved. The pictures upon my walls, and the books, lined upon their shelves, in colorful garments, greet me anew each day of my life. For 25 years I have lived in the same home— but every day, as I look out upon the surrounding grounds, I see something new and interesting. Now that the snow is fast disappearing, I look upon the green grass of Springtime, and soon the buds will begin to appear. Every Springtime is a new revelation to admire and enjoy.

There is a certain sympathy and understanding that ties one to all beauty; and to take the time for leisure in such enjoyment is to drink deeply into a refreshing Spring that never runs dry. Old scenes ever become new scenes. How wonderful if we could all say, with Thoreau, that "my wealth is not possessions, but enjoyment."

How brief is our time at its most. How immeasurably brief is the leisure that we take for admiration and enjoyment of the things that are so free and lavish—at our very feet as we beat our familiar paths from day to day. Can we not spare a little time for prayer and meditation that we may the more appreciate the rich beauty all about us?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "John Kieran—Human Being."

THIS LAND OF OURS
The more I hear, the more I read
Of any tyrant and his creed,
And how all foes he overpowers,
The more I love this land of ours.

Here, song and laughter fill the air,
And few are driven to despair,
Here, families unite in grace,
For hunger isn't commonplace.

Here, no one walks the street in dread
That spies have heard what he has said,
Here, none by brutal threats is cowed,
Here all to worship are allowed.

The more I learn of lands afar,
Where deep in misery thousands are,
And hope for youth no longer flowers,
The more I love this land of ours.

'Tis Great Day For Irish In Hollywood

Hollywood, March 17 (AP)—Shure, and the shadow of St. Patrick should be hoverin' over Hollywood this day.

Eamon De Valera is in town. And Pat O'Brien, for a scene in his new RKO picture, will do an Irish reel to the gaelic tune, "Tread On The Tail O' Me Coat," under the guidance of dance director Charles O'Curran.

The name of the film? Begorra, and 'tis "The Boy With Green Hair!"

BUILDS ATOM BOMB SHELTER

Lakewood, N. J., March 17 (AP)—Clarence Booth says he's no Noah—he's building an "atom bomb-proof shelter" but he doesn't want to be the only man left on earth.

Booth wants the world to know about his atomic era Noah's ark so that others might start their own right now. His squat shelter already is taking shape on a hill near here. Booth, who says he's deadly serious about his shelter, used thousands of tons of concrete and steel to build the structure one floor below and one above the earth.

A local inventor and owner of a big machine shop, Booth designed precision parts for the army and navy during the past war. He is certain his new shelter can withstand the blast of an atom bomb.

The local inventor says his original construction schedule called for completion of the shelter by autumn. He said he's been reading the newspapers, though, and that prompted him to speed up the program. He wants his shelter now by early summer.

The hill on which the structure is located is 287 feet above sea level, highest in this area. Booth says atomic bomb blast would wash across its top without causing injury to the building or its inhabitants.

The shelter has a glass-like tile which Booth said will serve as insulation against radio-activity. It will be a solid block building with a slanting roof to catch rain water for drinking purposes and its own electrical generating system to provide current for cooking and heating.

What troubles him, though, is the thought that he may be the sole survivor of an atom bomb duel. He wants others to make their preparations too.

Promises Battle Against Taylor

Harrisburg, March 17 (AP)—A group of Harrisburg Republicans opposing re-election or Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor as State Senator promised voters today "a knock-down drag-out fight" at the April 27 primary.

Taylor and four organization-slanted candidates are opposed at the primary by a self-styled "fighting five" ticket of G.O.P. candidates headed by Walter M. Mumma, a building contractor, for the Senatorial nomination.

Attorney John McI. Smith, opening the "fighting five" campaign in a radio address last night said that: "Widespread unrest, uncertainty and discontent exists in Dauphin county not only because of the inadequacy of the leadership of the Taylor machine but also because the Taylor machine has brought this community into national disrepute."

The primary, Smith said, presents the voters "a golden opportunity" to defeat "this octopus known as the Taylor machine which has spread fear and intimidation throughout all these years."

STUDENT STUNT
Huntingdon, Pa., March 17 (AP)—Juniata college students today brought to reality every schoolboy's dream. Student auctioneers were selling faculty-approved absence certificates to the highest bidders. Each certificate entitled the bearer to miss one class with no fear of official reprisal. The stunt was part of a campus-wide fund raising campaign.

Helpful Tips For Home Builders

CONSTRUCTION OF WALLS HELD VERY IMPORTANT

The prospective home buyer or builder should always look closely at wall construction because it is one of the four principal elements in determining whether a structure is well-built. The others are foundation, floors and roof.

There are three basic types of walls: wood frame, masonry veneer over frame, and solid masonry. They are used singly and in combination. Frame walls are most widely used because they are lowest in cost, but masonry veneer, including brick, stone and stucco is a close second. Solid masonry is rarely found except in the more costly homes.

Wood frame is essentially a system of vertical wood studs, covered on the outside by sheathing, which in turn is covered with building paper and then siding.

Use Well-Seasoned Lumber

Well-seasoned lumber should be used and the wall should be as rigid as possible. Unseasoned materials will shrink and cause cracks. Studs of 2 x 4-inch material should be spaced no further apart than 16 inches, center to center, and secured at the top by two 2 x 4's nailed together as a plate to support joists for the second floor or rafters for the roof. Each corner should be braced by nailing 1 x 4's or 2 x 4's diagonally across the studs. Sheathing may be boards, plywood or rigid insulation board nailed to the outside edge of the studs. If boards are used they should be placed diagonally for added rigidity.

Choice of siding depends on desired design effect. Materials include wood clapboards, wood shingles, composition shingles, or metal shingles or clapboards.

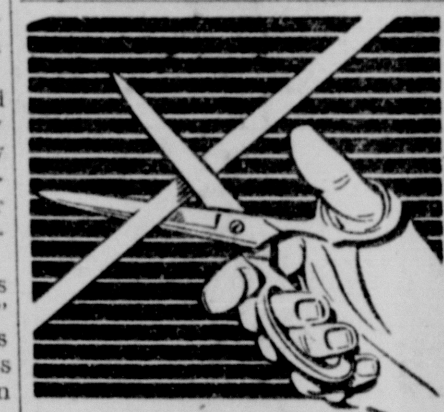

Veneer walls are merely one course of brick, stone or stucco applied to the outside of the sheathing.

Fire-Stopped Walls

Hollow walls must be fire-stopped to prevent spread of flames through these natural flues. This is done by placing short lengths of lumber or gypsum block between the studs or by filling the space with fireproof mineral wool insulation.

In a house of average construction there is only an inch or so of lath and plaster and about the same thickness of sheathing and siding between the living quarters and the outside temperature. Hence, the hollow space should be insulated to retain heat in winter and exclude it in summer. This is best done by nailing batts or blankets of fibrous insulating material, such as mineral wool, between the studs as the house goes up. Four inches of mineral wool is equal in insulating value to several feet of solid brick.

Washington, (AP)—Government estimates indicate that the U.S. food supply is sufficient to provide 3,400 calories per capita at the retail level.

THE ZENITH—FIRST FLOOR

THE ZENITH—SECOND FLOOR PLAN

THE ZENITH—A thoroughbred—a true, blueblood with generations of American Colonial tradition back of it—is the best description of The Zenith. It is, moreover, a house with an eye to the future.

It offers a five room home on the first floor complete with living room, dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms and bath. You may add two more bedrooms and bath upstairs, whenever you need them and feel you can afford them. Five rooms or seven rooms: the choice is yours and the design is in no way affected by your choice.

Every room is of good livable size. Each is well proportioned. The main portion of the house is almost square which facilitates economical construction. The living room has an open fireplace, the outside brickwork of which adds to the charm of the exterior.

The garage is attached to the house by an open porch which serves as a covered way from house to garage in bad weather. The little salt box extension that adds charm to the lines of the garage serves as a convenient storage for garden tools and keeps them out of the garage proper.

The roof dormers, the small paneled windows, the homey front entrance, the wide painted shingles, are all authentic items of true Colonial.

The Zenith was designed to conform to the standards of the Federal Housing Administration. Its wiring plan is approved by National Adequate Wiring Bureau.

Complete detailed architect's blueprints and specifications cost $7.50 per set and are obtainable from Housing Plan Service—140 Nassau Street—New York 7, N. Y.

Rent Control Bill Has Battle Ahead

Washington, March 17 (AP)—The home rule rent control bill passed by the House ran head-on into stiff Senate opposition today.

A hot fight seemed certain in the conference committee which will have the job of trying to bring the two chambers together to decide who should have final say over rent ceilings.

The present stopgap rent control act expires March 31.

The House chalked up a 251 to 132 vote last night for its bill stripping federal officials of major powers over rents. The measure would transfer to local boards—nominated by the governors of the various states—full and final authority to raise rents or to lift controls completely.

Timely And Modern Suggestions Presented By Builders And Contractors

HOME OWNERS NEED TO KNOW 'THE LANGUAGE'

The construction industry has a jargon all its own and it is necessary for the layman who is planning to build or remodel to understand this language. For that reason, the U. S. Bureau of Standards has produced a glossary (Report BMS-91) which succinctly explains the words. Some of the most-used terms follow:

Backfill—Replacement of earth in a trench or against a structure.

Bearing Wall—Wall which supports any load in addition to its own weight.

Coping—Cap at top of wall to shed water.

Dry Wall Construction—Interior wall finish in material other than plaster.

Dormer—An internal recess, the framing of which projects from a sloping roof.

Facade—The face of a building.

Fire Barrier—Solid gypsum or wood block, or mineral wool insulation, between studs to prevent rapid spread of fire through hollow walls.

Flue—Space in chimney through which smoke and fumes ascend.

Framing Members—Studs, joists, sills, columns, headers, and rafters.

Furring—Strips of wood or metal applied to a wall.

Gable—End walls between the slopes of a roof.

Header—Beam placed at right angles to joists or studs to provide for chimney, window, door or other opening.

Joists—Parallel beams used to support floors and ceilings and in turn supported by larger beams or bearing walls.

Lintel—Horizontal beam supporting the load over a door or window.

Millwork—Finished wood portions of a building such as doors, windows, door frames, usually assembled away from the site.

Mullion—Slender bar dividing units of windows, screens or similar frames.

Pier—Column of masonry supporting other structural members.

Pointing—Filling joints in masonry with mortar under tool pressure for appearance or protection from the elements.

Sill—Large beam resting horizontally on the foundation to which uprights of the frame are fastened.

Stud—Vertical wood or metal, usually 2 x 4 inches, supporting walls and partitions.

Trim—Finish materials such as moldings and baseboard around

Girl Discovered Brutally Beaten

Cincinnati, March 17 (AP)—A 22-year-old girl lay in General hospital today recovering from a beating police described as the "most brutal and savage" they had ever encountered.

Harold E. Boehm, 32, faced serious charges filed by Mrs. Wanda Sarver, the girl's sister.

Mrs. Sarver said her sister, Barbara Sevedge, had failed to come home for two weeks and she believed Boehm had held the girl prisoner. She trailed the man to his room and then called police.

Police said the girl was nearly nude and in a semi-conscious condition when found. Her face was battered, her lips swollen and her eyes closed. There were cuts and bruises on her body and burns, apparently from cigarettes, on her feet.

Capt. Keith Scott said.

The initials B.S. and H.B. were carved into her left arm near the shoulder, apparently with a pen-knife. The girl said she had been beaten with the buckle end of a belt. A bloody belt and buckle were found in the room.

TRUMAN WILL ADDRESS IRISH

New York, March 17 (AP)—The President of the United States and a Presidential aspirant meet in New York today to celebrate St. Patrick's Day with thousands of children and grandchildren of old Ireland.

President Truman arrives by plane from Washington this afternoon to join Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in watching the city's annual St. Patrick's Day parade on Fifth avenue. It is the first time a President has viewed the parade, in which approximately 80,000 are expected to march. Partly cloudy and cool weather was forecast.

Tonight at 10:30 (EST)—long after the last flutter of green and shrill of pipes has died in the deep canyon of Fifth avenue—the President will address the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

His speech at Hotel Astor, to be broadcast and televised, will be on foreign policy and will be an elaboration of the one earlier today before the joint Congressional session.

Francis Cardinal Spellman also will address the dinner.

ERP CAN GET QUICK START

Paris, March 17 (AP)—American dollars will start clanking on European counters almost as soon as President Truman's pen is dry after signing the European Reconstruction bill.

A high American source in Paris said today the machinery is all set to begin parcelling out the long-awaited Marshall plan aid as soon as the program gets past the House of Representatives and the President signs it.

"All America demands of the organization now being born in Paris is a serious indication that these countries are willing to work together and help themselves," the informant said. "They can start receiving aid even before they have an organization of their own if we feel sure they are going to have one eventually."

"Eventually," he added, the United States wants countries receiving Marshall plan aid to have a strong administration unit set-up in some European capital where a close check can be kept on the expenditure of the funds.

To start things rolling, as soon as President Truman signs the bill, this informant said, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has set aside a billion dollars to be applied to the European aid fund.

ST. PATRICK
SEND ULTIMATUM TO SAINT PETER?

By JAMES F. HACKETT
(By The Associated Press)
Fifteen hundred and fifteen years ago there arrived in Ireland a zealous, white-bearded Roman. He so endeared himself to the natives that today their descendants throughout the world pay homage to his memory with feasting, dancing, parading and jerry-making.
To the ruddy-faced Irishman and his offspring, no greater man lived than St. Patrick. So thoroughly did he implant Catholicism in the Emerald Isle that from his time up to the present generation, Irishmen are lost rivers of blood in its descent.
Yet to the Irishman on Fifth Avenue in New York and probably to the arduous Irish in Dublin on this St. Patrick's Day, their patron is almost stranger. His life is lost in legends. The greatest story of Patrick's power, of course, concerns the snakes and how they were driven from Ireland.

Few Known Facts
Except for the date of his arrival in Ireland—the early spring of 432—there are few facts about Patrick's life which stand unquestioned. His place of birth never was determined. The satisfaction of Irish historians. That he was a Roman is certain or he himself identified his father and mother in his "Confession."
The saint was christened Succat—clever in war—a name by which he was known until he became a bishop. When he obtained his commission to evangelize Ireland, Pope Celestine I. renamed Succat, sending him from Rome as Patricius, a noble name of the time.
There probably is no race today as proud as the Irish of descent from so-called royalty. Old Erin, it would appear from some accounts, spawned kings as easily as a salmon laying eggs at the headwaters of the Columbia river.

Buried Standing Up
Erin was near the height of its pagan civilization when Patrick arrived. He made his way up the Boyne river to Tara, seat of the elected high chief of Ireland, a man named Leary. Evidence that Leary was not "king" of all Ireland rests in the fact that when he died he was buried standing up, as was the custom, facing his enemies in Lianster.

Patrick was not the first Catholic missionary to visit Ireland. His predecessors were numerous. Like most missionaries of the fourth and fifth centuries who went into wild country their work usually ended in death—violent and swift.
Still, there were some converts in Erin, but so few in number the Patrick could not hope for much help from them. Unlike the missionaries before him, Patrick decided to approach the leaders of the island first and then work his way down. He failed to convert Leary, but he gained from the high chief permission to preach through the land. Leary's wife and two daughters were baptized along with certain counselors at Tara.

Established 700 Churches
For the next 28 years, Patrick toured the island and at the time of his death he had established 700 churches, ordained 3,000 priests and consecrated 330 bishops. Even with that phenomenal achievement, Patrick died in a land not completely converted. There still was much work left for Ireland's next most famous saints, Bridget and Columba. Columba, also known to the Irish as Columkille—dove of the church—came on the scene 100 years after Patrick. During his lifetime, much of it in exile at Iona, Columba considered himself Patrick's lieutenant. An intriguing legend has come down concerning Columkille and the last day of the world:

In a dream, Columkille was transported to the last day of the world. Accompanying Patrick from heaven, Columkille watched in awe as the bodies of men were resurrected from their graves and united with their souls. When all had been accomplished Patrick, in a great voice called on all the Irish to assemble in one place.
Calling Columkille, then, Patrick sent his lieutenant to heaven with instructions to have St. Peter prepare a suitable welcome for the Irish.

"All or None"
"St. Peter saw no objection to such a reception," said Columkille, "but he enjoined me to return to Patrick with an order that only the good Irish could enter—the others to go below."

Patrick was taken aback. With great anger, he told Columkille to return to the gates and inform Peter that heaven would get all the Irish or none at all.
When asked what happened next, Columkille said his dream ended at that point.

COAL TO CUT STEEL OUTPUT

New York, March 17 (AP)—Steel's operating rate will drop sharply within three weeks or so if the coal strike is prolonged, the Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, said today.

Even those mills with good coal stocks may be forced to curtail their supply, the publication added.

Such a move, it noted, would prevent a sudden steel shutdown and operations could be stepped up sharply if things looked better.

The Iron Age reported coal operators preparing for a stiff fight and said that "on that basis the shutdown is no short social affair."

It continued: "As usual the steel industry will be the fall guy for John L. Lewis, and its misfortune will be used by him to strengthen his hand at the bargaining table. With a sharp drop in steel output the nation's emotions can be adequately wrought up—especially at a time when demand for steel is heavy, the international situation is tense and steel production at an all-time rate."

Ingot output of the industry this week was placed at 97 per cent of rated capacity.

The trade publication reported there was no evidence that demand for steel will suffer any setback over the next several months.

CRUCIAL DEBATE IN UN ON CZECH COUP BY RUSSIA

By MAX HARRELSON

Lake Success, March 17 (AP)—The United Nations faced a grave crisis today as the Security Council prepared to open debate on the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

The crucial council meeting was called for 2:30 p.m. (EST), about two hours after President Truman delivered his message to a joint session of Congress on the critical world situation.

The issue was so explosive that some delegates feared it might lead to an irreparable break between Russia and the Western Powers.

The specific question before the council was a Chilean proposal that the council investigate Russia's role in the Czechoslovakia coup.

Gromyko Silent

It was the second time in the history of the U.N. that Russia has appeared before the council to prevent action against her own government. The other case, based on an Iranian complaint against Russia, resulted in a Soviet walkout in March, 1946.

As the hour for the meeting approached, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko remained grimly silent. There was little doubt, however, that he would fight bitterly to bar debate on the Chilean proposal. The veto does not apply on a question of procedure.

At least five of the council's 11 members are reported definitely lined up in favor of putting the issue on the council's agenda for a full airing. These are the United States, France, China, Britain and Belgium.

The attitude of Argentina, Canada, Colombia and Syria still is uncertain. Two of these four must vote for a debate on the Chilean proposal to give it the necessary seven votes. The Soviet Ukraine is expected to vote with Russia.

Several other conclusions seem warranted by the facts:

(1) When the fighting ends it probably will not be upon the frontiers mapped at Lake Success—the Jewish state either will take in virtually all Palestine or only a thin coastal enclave from Tel Aviv to Haifa.

(2) Neither side anticipates that an International U. N. Enforcement army ever will be sent here.

(3) There still is room to believe that a solution by compromise may be found, after some fighting and bloodshed, although at this moment neither side is willing to discuss terms short of total victory.

The Arab Plan

The Arab plan is to split the Jewish state at its center and thin weak point, along the plain of Sharon near Nathania where the Arabs are massed in strong inland hills and the Jews hold a 10 to 15 mile wide coastal flatland—a position both sides have likened to Anzio beachhead.

At its successful utmost, this plan of tactics would reduce the Jewish state to wedge-like coastal enclaves around Tel Aviv and Haifa, with perhaps one endangered road of coastal contact.

Few Arabs actually expect ever to be able to reduce this coastal position, with its seaborne supply. But they believe that by squeezing the

STRATEGY AND TACTICS IN WAR FOR PALESTINE

By JAMES M. LONG

Jerusalem, March 17 (AP)—The Arabs talk of victory in Palestine in a single, overwhelming onslaught. The Jews speak of a long-drawn, hard campaign to win the state the United Nations mapped.

But what they really mean is that the Arabs hope to win eventually by ceaseless guerrilla tactics which would block the Jewish state from ever coming into actual being—and the Jews hope to clinch victory in quick, decisive blows.

In weighing the chances both sides admit two common factors: (1) That the full scale fight cannot begin until the British pull out, presumably May 15; and (2) that developments yet unforeseen probably will keep the withdrawal from being clear-cut, leaving the British army a still-unknown influence upon the outcome.

Several other conclusions seem warranted by the facts:

(1) When the fighting ends it probably will not be upon the frontiers mapped at Lake Success—the Jewish state either will take in virtually all Palestine or only a thin coastal enclave from Tel Aviv to Haifa.

At its successful utmost, this plan of tactics would reduce the Jewish state to wedge-like coastal enclaves around Tel Aviv and Haifa, with perhaps one endangered road of coastal contact.

Few Arabs actually expect ever to be able to reduce this coastal position, with its seaborne supply. But they believe that by squeezing the Jews down to a two-city state, itself under siege, they will have invalidated partition and forced a new, different solution.

The Triangle Strategy

Jewish military commanders plan to meet this strategy by attack of their own—since defense could not easily hold the Jewish position.

This is the attack which they hope will prove decisive:

Blows, if possible from three sides, against the Arabs' main concentration in the Nablus-Tulkarm-Jenin triangle. That requires that Haganah retain control of the Tel Aviv-Haifa coastal road; that it holds Jerusalem as a striking base for attack north against Ramallah and Nablus; and that it keeps control of the broad valley of Esdraelon—the Armageddon of the Old Testament—for attack against Jenin and Beisan.

Haganah's commanders expect that in this triangle Arab armies can be dealt the blows that would end the fight for Palestine—or at least break it down to sporadic guerrilla fighting.

Edward "The Confessor," King of England who died in 1066, was so called because of his reputation for sanctity.

The English Channel is about 350 miles long and 100 miles wide at its broadest point and 22 miles at its narrowest. Americans are using almost 90 per cent more oil products a year than in 1939.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer of these ailments, try BIO-MINERAL. You may be astounded at the results. You need not guess—you will see facts. BIO-MINERAL comes from the earth—Nature's Laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

BIO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. Lack of minerals in the blood causes anemia, headaches, nervousness. Minerals generate mental brilliancy, give sparkling eyes, red cheeks, fight disease, build up health.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there regularly twice a year. YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Amazing Results

BIO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it. Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of BIO-MINERAL.

BIO-MINERAL is not a physic and does not interfere with the foods in the stomach. It cleans and purifies the intestines, thoroughly relieving gas, toxins, acids, and bloating. After these poisons are out of the system and the kidneys purified, we begin to feel the arthritis and rheumatism leaving, and Nature starting to complete the recovery.

We Guarantee

WE URGE everyone to try BIO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Come to Rea & Derick's now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money in full.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, BIO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need. TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.
